GERMANY COMING BACK INTO ITS OWN

MAY GET BACK COLONIES TAKEN DURING WORLD WAR

Is Opinion Expressed At the Geneva Conference, Seat On Commission Is Assured To Teutons, More Tangible Cut In Arms Is Necessary, Before Great Britain Will Put Its O. K. On the Proposal To Give Financial Aid To Nation Victim of Aggression.

The Council of the League of Nations at Geneva, Switzerland, decided Thursday to increase the membership of the League's mandate commission, supervising Germany's former colonies, from nine to ten, and assured Germany a seat on the commission.

This is interpreted as meaning the eventual restoration to Germany of one or more of the colonies she lost in the World war.

World disarmament unexpectedly caused a discussion in the council Thursday afternoon.

Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, commenting upon a plan for organized financial assistance for a nation, victim of aggression, declared the project possessed great value and would deter aggression, but that Great Britain would demand a more tangible reduction of armaments before supporting the scheme.

Sir Austen declared it would be impossible to consider the project apart from disarmament; and that British parliamentary acceptance also undoubtedly would be contingent upon acceptance by all nations.

The project, which was drawn up by the league's financial committee, and now goes before the assembly, provides that a nation attacked could contract loans on the general security of its revenues, but with the assistance of an international guarantee to be contained in a convention which would be open to all nations. No states would benefit from this arrangement unless they signed the convention.

Norway and Lithuania joined Sweden in demanding that the league council adopt a less passive attitude in international political problems. If the applause and later comments of the mixed public galleries are to be taken as a criterion, the general reaction to this is that the criticism heard in the last few days will serve a useful purpose in preventing the league becoming lethargic and will put increased vim into its activities, particularly disarmament activities.

Because of the opposition of the foreign ministers of certain big powers, Poland reluctantly trimmed its original elaborate nonaggression pact until it became a mere skeleton of two articles.

One of these forbids all war as a means to solve international disputes. The other stipulates that all international quarrels must be settled by pacific means.

The new text declared in the preamble that the assembly recognizes the solidarity binding the international community and is animated by the firm will to assure maintenance of general peace.

The preamble continues by emphasizing that war never should be resorted to for settling disputes between nations, that an aggressive war is an international crime, and that the solemn denunciation of all wars of aggression will cause an atmosphere of general confidence favorable to disarmament.

Then comes the body of the resolution, which declares first that "every war of aggression is and will be forbidden," and, second, "the assembly declares that the members of the League of Nations are under obligation to obey this principle and requests them to negotiate pacts of non-aggression inspired with the idea that pacific means should be employed for the settlement of differences whatever might be their nature."

MAYOR FOUND NOT GUILTY AT HEARING

Case Against G. M. Fitzpatrick Dismissed--Evidence Was Not Sufficient.

The hearing of Mayor George M. Fitzpatrick before justice of the peace, E. C. Friece Thursday afternoon, resulted in a verdict of not guilty. Mr. Fitzpatrick was charged with assaulting George Greer in the city jail, following a hearing before the mayor on the charge of receiving stolen property.

The prosecuting witness, Mr. Greer subpoenaed six witnesses, three of whom gave their testimony. The mayor was represented by Meeker Terwilliger and M. C. Seyfert Jr., and after all evidence was in, made a motion to dismiss the case on the ground of insufficient evidence. The motion was upheld and the mayor was discharged.

METHODISTS TO SUPPORT THE MARSHALL LAW

Conference Resolution Calls on Churches to Give Moral and Financial Aid.

Ohio's militant Methodists at Delaware, cheered their "amens" Thursday to a pledge of further "moral and financial" support of the Anti-Saloon League and to call to battle for the Marshall bill.

With fervor born in speeches by Rev. E. J. Moore, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, Senator L. T. Marshall, author of the bill, and former Senator J. S. Edwards, Ohio's Methodist preachers stood and cheered their battle cry "against the forces of vice and lawlessness that are trying to bring vote they passed a resolution, drawn about another wet regime in Ohio."

With an immediate and unanimous by Rev. Moore, that called on Ohio's M. E. churches to give moral and financial support to the league.

"We call on all good men and women to be as active in combatting the wet interests now as they were in the battle leading up to prohibition," the resolution said.

"We ask of the Methodist churches that same loyalty to and support of the Anti-Saloon League that these churches have given in the past. The church cannot leave the field as long as it is confronted by an organized enemy."

The Marshall bill, which will be attacked by referendum following activities by Senator George H. Bender, came in for praise as "preserving the inferior courts which are as old as the state and necessary to welfare of country districts."

"Defeat of the bill would be heralded as a wet victory," the resolution said. "Law-abiding citizens do not believe work of the courts should be hampered at the behest of the lawless element."

No debate was had on that part of the resolution calling for support of the Anti-Saloon League. The Marshall bill part of it was spoken over at length.

CONFERENCES OF DEMOCRATS DURING WEEK

Ohio Delegates to be For Donahey For President and Davey For Governor.

Columbus, September. (Special)—

Democratic state leaders have held a number of conferences during the past week. The result has been to clear up the situation in Ohio so far as their party is concerned.

One paramount feature has marked all the conferences and is to be constantly pushed to the fore. The party must enter the campaign of next year solidly united and without international dissension. To this is attributed the election of Governor Donahey three times.

The program which has been decided upon is to nominate Congressman Martin L. Davey of Kent, representing the 14th Ohio district, for governor. This will be done, as nearly without opposition as possible. He is regarded as the strongest man the party can present as a vote getter.

A delegation will be sent to the next Democratic National convention from Ohio, instructed for Governor Donahey for president. This has been decided upon. While it is not considered as at all certain he will be nominated, it fits into the plan of party solidarity.

In case the nomination goes to another the governor will then declare himself as a candidate for the United States senatorship to oppose Senator Simeon D. Fess. This is the position to which he really aspires and it is believed he will be the strongest man the party can present. The fact that he will have the support of his own state in the national convention will give him added strength in the senatorial race. The leaders feel he will secure the nomination without another man in the field.

This is the program the leaders have decided upon and it will be carried out.—George U. Marvin.

The home has been rigidly quarantined.

Reveals Recipe forFamed Singing Hinnie

Dublin, Ireland.—Everybody in Ireland knows what a singing hinnie is. Consequently there was much surprise when country families read in London dispatches that Mrs. L. S. Amery, wife of the secretary for the dominions, and other well-known British women had learned for the first time at a London cooking demonstration just how to make this popular Irish country dish. The recipe known to every Irish housewife is:

One pound of flour, one teacupful of currants, three-fourths pound of butter, lard or margarine, one teaspoonful of baking powder and sufficient sweet milk to mix to the consistency of pancake dough.

The hinnies are cooked on a hot griddle and are called singing because of the noise made by the sizzling grease.

WHOLESALE ESCAPE PLAN IS THWARTED

Convicts Had Cut a Large Hole in Prison Wall—Five are in Solitary.

Wholesale escape of Ohio Penitentiary prisoners was thwarted Wednesday when guards discovered a large hole in an outside wall of a dormitory accommodating 600 men.

Five men, believed to be the ringleaders, were placed in solitary confinement. Others are implicated, it is believed, and will be placed in solitary confinement. The men are:

Sam West, serving two to 20 years from Erie county, for automobile stealing.

Jack Hart, five to 30 years from Summit county for burglary.

Andrew Anderson, two to three years from Hamilton county for carrying concealed weapons.

William J. Dooley, five to 15 years from Cleveland for defrauding an innkeeper.

Charles Shoelkey, serving one to five years from Lucas county, for pocket-picking.

The hole, five by three feet, had been dug in the wall of an air chamber and storage room which opens off the dormitory. It was under a window near the roof. The wall at that point is about three feet thick. All but the outside shell of stones had been removed and piled in the left of the air chamber. Mortar around the outside stones had been loosened and the stones could have been pushed out easily.

Guards discovered that the convicts had made a duplicate key to the air chamber. Several chisels, a hammer manufactured out of lead and crow bar were found.

Two of the five men placed in solitary confinement confessed to the warden of their part in the plot. They worked, they said, during the day when they were employed in the dormitory as "range" men or orderlies. At that time there is but one guard in the dormitory.

Much of the work was done on Labor Day, they said. The prison band playing for festivities put on for the men deadened the sound. They had been working about two weeks, they said.

The men could have reached the ground by dropping about 15 feet. The dormitory wall faced W. Spring street and guards on the walls could not see the spot where the hole was being made.

Men in the dormitory on which the air chamber opens are not confined in cells but have access to any part of the dormitory. This condition prevails because of the crowded condition at the penitentiary.

National Farm Leaders and Business Men Unite

Chicago.—The Agricultural Club of America, a super-organization of farmers and of business leaders dealing with agriculture, which will be "the largest and most democratic club in existence," and will have its own home in a $35,000,000 "Agricultural Capitol building" to be owned by its members, reached the stage of formal organization here recently.

Led by Coburn Whitmore, Dean Charles F. Curtis of the Iowa State college at Ames and other national farm leaders, the organization expects to attain a membership of 510,500 farmers and business men who deal chiefly with agriculture. Its five fundamental purposes were stated, at a meeting of the board of governors, as follows:

"To centralize, and make possible a closer co-operation between all existing farm organizations on matters of national or group-interest.

"To aid them by providing them a permanent central home.

"To enable such business men as implement makers, bankers and others dealing with farmers to understand the farm situation better from direct contact with actual farmers.

"To create a fund of millions of dollars with which farmers may finance great projects that will help them meet their needs.

"Finally, to make Chicago, as its location and shipping facilities entitle it to be, the agricultural capital of America."

Headquarters of the club are to be in a new building, plans for which have been drawn by William H. Pruyn, Jr., architect, and approved by the board of governors. Its total cost is to be $35,000,000, and plans for financing it are under way.

One of the first settlers in Twin township was Lewis Igo, who was born near Baltimore, Maryland, in 1767, and settled in Lower Twin in 1793, purchasing a tract of land of General McArthur. He built a cabin and the following spring he brought his family. A year or two later his brother, William, came, but after a couple of years he moved to Sugar Tree Ridge eight miles above Hillsboro. Later Lewis built him a home and a barn about 1814 which are still standing and it was at this home, with Edward N. "Best For The Least"

AUBURNStraight Eights Proven In
42,000 Miles Test
to be the—Fastest American Stock CarsImpossible—

Auburn could not originate new improved designs and build cars better than they had ever been built before, and sell them for less money, said competitors.

Yet Auburn did it. The public recognized the advancement and bought. Auburn sales doubled in one year. The car itself caused it. Even today competitors are just starting to copy Auburn's original low design of three years ago.

Its Luck—It Can't Last—

they then said. Yet this year Auburn sales will again double. Auburn's growth and success is most extraordinary. The reasons for it are all built into the car itself, and the wonderful satisfaction of Auburn owners. Auburn's percent of increase is a sensation in the industry, greatly gaining where others lost, and greatly passing many of the so called "big" companies.

The Public Wins

How can buyers strip cars of their outer tinsel, of their fancy model names and exaggerated advertising claims and get down to the real bone and flesh values?

Auburn makes its car do its own selling. Its asks no favors, depends upon no high-pressure selling nor artifices. It BUILDS better and newer cars and makes the cars themselves PROVE it. Therefore Auburn's value is irrefutable.

Read These Records

To prove that Auburn cars are faster, more efficient, more durable, better engineered and built, we determined to break all official A. A. A. records for fully equipped stock cars from 5 to 5,000 miles—and DID it on the Atlantic City Speedway. Then we doubted that distance establishing new records to 10,000 miles, then on top of that we tripled it, making new records to 15,000 miles, all in one continuous test. Three times the proof of superior value ever offered buyers by any manufacturer!

Words vs Deeds

Words can not offset Auburn's deeds. Claims can not substitute for performance proofs. Auburn introduces a new kind of automobile, and shows the new kind of value you are entitled to.

Distance Lure
I have heard it said of a great painting, "Don't go too close to it." In order to get the best out of a picture view it in the proper light and from a distance. If you get too close to look you will realize the rough way in which it is made. . . . "I prefer (now) to also view women from a distance; never closer than four or five feet.—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

AMUSEMENTS

In point of acting, direction and story, "The Fire Brigade" qualifies as one of the really great pictures it has been the good fortune of this reviewer to witness. This picture, produced by Hunt Stromberg with the cooperation of the International Order of Fire Engineers, opened a three days' engagement last night at the Metropolitan theater. It is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture.

"The Fire Brigade" brings back to the screen the Charles Ray everyone loves in a role that lifts him to new heights. It is indeed a stroke of good fortune that Ray played the part, for not only did Ray need such a part to establish him again in his rightful place, but the part needed Ray for its interpretation. The actor and the role seemed to be created for each other.

Ray plays the part of Terry O'Neill, a young fireman who finds himself tangled in a net of politics, duty and love, and the denouement come in one of the most thrilling climaxes ever screened.

May McAvoy is seen in the leading feminine role opposite Ray, and plays the part of Helen Corwin with a sincerity that adds immeasurably to her interpretation. This actress is growing in dramatic stature with each succeeding picture into a brilliant artist.

A excellent performance is given by Holmes Herbert, as James Corwin, and Tom O'Brien, remembered for his work in "The Big Parade," has another interesting character part. Eugenie Besserer as the mother of Ray contributes an excellent bit of emotional acting.

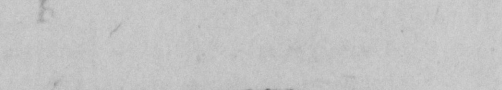

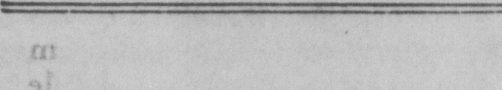

"The Fire Brigade" is the first Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture directed by William Nigh, who exhibits a marked ability for this type of production. He has handled his big scenes to the best possible advantage deriving the last ounce of effect from each bit of action.

HARM OF THE HEAVY TRUCK

Nobody who travels American highways to any considerable extent has failed to see improved roads seriously damaged by the heavy trucks now in use. In most states, weight limit regulations are supposed to be in existence, but there are few if any states in which such regulations have been generally and successfully enforced. Ordinarily, people think only of the injury done to the road, but in cities the harm does not confine itself to the streets. A prominent Washington city architect, George O. Totten, has recently written a letter to the commissioners of the District of Columbia, complaining that serious injury is being done to buildings for a considerable distance back of the street line.

"May I call your attention to the fact" says Mr. Totten, "that the heavy trucks now permitted to traverse our streets are doing great damage to buildings of all classes? These trucks, with their 14 tons, lumbering along on hard rubber tires, many of which have scarcely any rubber at all, at 15 miles or more an hour, cause violent tremors, veritable earthquakes for a distance of 50 or 100 feet back of the pavement. They have caused serious damage to two buildings which I own, where I have had to replace fallen ceilings."

There can be no doubt of the general utility of the motor truck, but the weight of loads permitted to be drawn over the streets and highways by these swift-moving vehicles will have to be determined, in the end, not by the truck manufacturers or owners, but in accordance with the best interests of the people as a whole. The quick ruin of expensively-built roads, to say nothing of injury to buildings on adjoining property, cannot be permitted to go on indefinitely, merely because a very big truck, heavily loaded, is more economical than two smaller ones, from the truckman's point of view.—Columbus Dispatch.

Still Find War Victims
That an average of 30 bodies a week are found in France and Belgium is the report of an official of the imperial war grave commission. The number is decreasing, as many as 100 being recovered in a week last year. The finds are made by farmers re-deeming land, by builders restoring devastated areas and by others searching for old metal in battlefields. A reward of 10 francs is offered by the British, the French and the Belgian governments, and paid according to the nationality of the body found.

Enjoy Your Home --- All of It ---

This winter many families will LIVE ALL OVER THEIR HOMES--using all the rooms, enjoying the comforts of ALL of their furniture, for they will use the modern Cabinet Heaters.

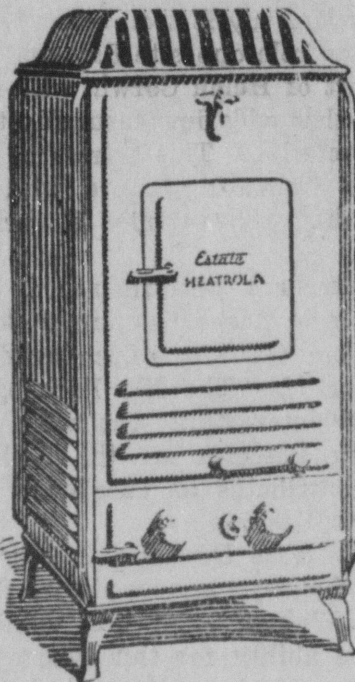

Others will live in one or two rooms, close up the balance of the house for the winter, all on account of the inefficiency of the old type of heating stove. They will hover around the old stove in an effort to keep warm, while the other folks will be enjoying themselves all over their homes, for the reason that they are using one of our circulating Heaters.

There is no "guess-work" any more about these new heaters doing the work for which they are intended. We have sold them for the past five years AND THEY DO WORK. Ask any of our users--we'll be glad to tell you who they are and where they live.

CIRCULATORS

The manufacturer had the farmer in mind when he built this heater. It has an 18 inch fire-pot, with boiler plate body. It has heating capacity of 12,000 cubic feet, or enough to easily heat six to eight large rooms. It is 54 inches high, and 24 inches square. A beautiful piece of furniture as well as a very efficient heater. Price is only $125.00
Next in Line Comes

Keeps All YOUR Home Warm

—THE RADIO—

It has a heating capacity of 8,000 cubic feet, or enough to heat five to six rooms comfortably. It has a 16 inch fire-pot, and stands 50 inches high, and 22 inches wide. Finished in a beautiful Mahogany finish. This heater sells at $90.00
Price

The Radio, same as above, with the exception that the finish is plain black, with nickled corner pieces, sells at the extremely low price of only $64.50. Why buy the old fashioned type of round heater when you can buy a parlor furnace for so little?

A Real Heater for the Money is THE CABINET

This type is built like a smelting furnace,—with a lining of fire-clay. They have been used under the most trying conditions, heating warehouses, and the results were most satisfactory. Kiddies' Fashions Adult Miniatures

Styles for Youngsters Now Like Mothers and Sisters Are Wearing.

Clothes for little girls, in particular, are perfect miniatures of their mother's and older sister's.

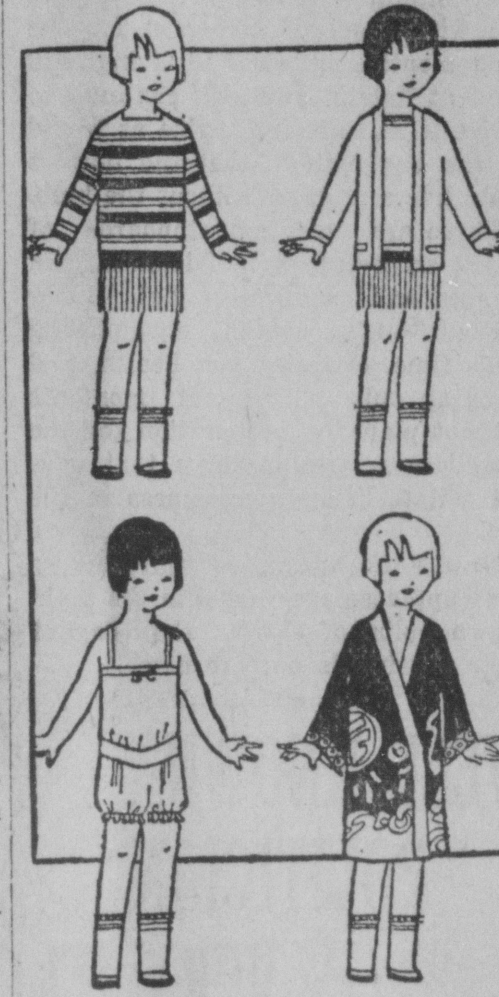

This striking similarity, however, does not mean that modern children are becoming super-sophisticated or that their adults are striving for exaggerated youthfulness. It illustrates the simplicity of the established fashions which makes them appropriate for women and children.

The "baby" sister, for example, (from four to fourteen years) may wear for school or play a sweater costume which is an exact duplicate of the one which her mother or sister wears to the links for her game of golf. The horizontal stripes, graduated in size, usually take on more vivid colors for the younger generation and may be matched by striped socks worn on little brown legs, but otherwise the sweater and skirt costume is only a big one reduced.

The cardigan, too, as well as the slipover, has shrunk to the proportions of a six-year-old who wears it traveling with no small amount of child-smartness. It is of light-weight wool crepe just like the grown-up sizes and is worn with either a little silk blouse or another sweater.

And silk underwear is by no means the exclusive right of the debutante or 'teen-age daughter. Tiny glove-silk vests and bloomers in dainty pink and peach shades are found in the lingerie drawer of the family along with the everyday white muslin combinations.

The grown-ups have no monopoly even upon coolie coats—for they too have been minimized into small-size wrappers or lounging coats, with the same exotic colors and designs that appear on the large ones.

The scaling-down of the fashions does not stop with the larger articles of apparel but continues to the details.

Small felt hats, too (with medium brims), look almost exactly like the tailored ones which belong to older members of the family and are often almost the same in head size (when the grown-ups have a close shingle-bob).

Choose Stocking Heel That Will Fit Shoe

When you purchase stockings, does it ever occur to you to see that the heel of the stocking is becoming to the type of shoe it is to be worn with, or do you buy the particular type of heel you have seen advertised as being the "smart thing" and then wear it with any and all styles of shoes?

A low-heeled shoe, or any sports shoe, demands a square-heeled stocking. The pointed heel is worn with the opera pump or the severely plain one-strap slipper. The intricately strapped or cutout dress shoe takes the square heel, as the pointed heel worn with this type of shoe would make just one more irregular outline!

Hats, Handbags Match; Shown in Many Colors

Hats and handbags to match are being produced in many colors in Paris. Usually felt is chosen for the accessory ensemble, but one also sees crepe de chine and taffeta. The ensemble match the dress in color.

Felt hats and handbags, kasha or silk sport dresses, and colored kid shoes make bright costumes when such colors as green, blue or pink are chosen.

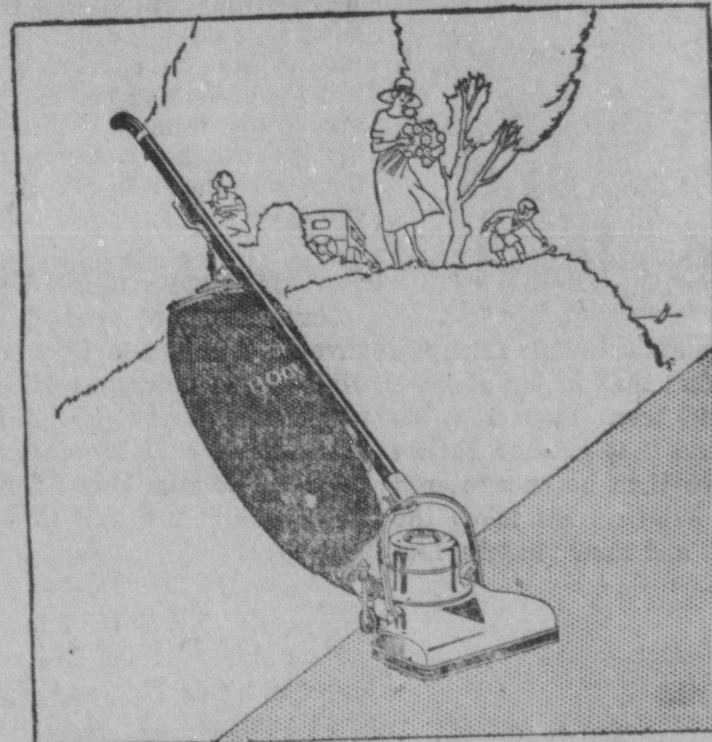

Brushed Angora Strands Are Used as Embroidery

Weaving an interesting yarn—the embroidery of many of the smartest new frocks of lightweight woollen is worked in brushed angora strands. Often a deep yoke and upper portion of the sleeves are worked in dull-white yarn in a design perfectly stimulating lace.

White Man's Burden

That is the title of a famous poem written by Rudyard Kipling and first published in 1890. Each stanza of the poem begins with the line: "Take up the white man's burden." The phrase now refers to the supposed responsibility of the white race for the moral and physical welfare of all the dark races of the world.—The Pathfinder.

THRIFT TALK GOOD HABITS RIGHT LIVING

Facts About Future Should be Faced by All in Very Sensible Manner.

"It doesn't pay to worry about the future. The things we dread seldom happen. It's better to take life as it comes and not burden ourselves with thoughts about the years ahead."

There are many whose creed of life is something like this and it leads them along a very treacherous and dangerous pathway. It doesn't pay to worry, perhaps, from the standpoint of conjuring up imaginary woes or misfortunes. But there is a great difference between worrying about the future and facing life's possibilities in a sensible manner.

The Japanese have a proverb which says: "Success and happiness are the beautiful flowers that spring from the plain brown bulbs of thrift and savings." The point of this talk on thrift is to point out the difference between planting the honest bulbs of thrift and neglecting entirely to make provision for the future.

Too many of us are apt to think of thrift only in terms of plain brown unattractive bulbs, without thought of the beautiful flowers that come from them. And the sequence of thrift and personal advancement is just as true as the sequence of bulb and lily.

To maintain that one can go thru life with absolute disregard for the fundamentals of rightful living and prudent habits, and still continue to thrive is as false a doctrine as would be the suggestion that the flowers could live and grow without the bulb.

There are varying standards of thrift, according to individual circumstances and conditions. But living beyond one's means, squandering one's time, energies and health, and thinking only of present moments without plan or preparation for the later years, are practices that cannot fail to bring unhappiness in the end.

Unless the flowers of your success and happiness are rooted in the plain brown bulbs of thrift, the day of their passing is sure to come.

WELL KNOWN POLITICIAN IS VERY ILL

S. H. Hollenbeck, Once Power
in State and Nation, Unable to Leave Home.

Illness has forced the seclusion of S. H. Hollenbeck, confidential friend and adviser of the late Senator Mark A. Hanna, according to advices received by friends in Cleveland.

Hollenbeck, in his prime, was one of the best known political figures in Ohio and was instrumental in the campaign which made William McKinley president in 1896 and 1900.

Altho never elected to any high office, either state or national, Hollenbeck was relied upon by Hanna and other politicians of the time as a man to conjure with in time of political crisis.

He served as state fire marshal when McKinley was governor of Ohio, and when McKinley began his spirited campaign for president in 1896, Hollenbeck traveled from coast to coast lining up support to elect McKinley. His success was reflected later in tributes from Hanna, and McKinley.

Hollenbeck is now past seventy and is unable to leave his home. He has been ill for the past three months.

BAD HABITS.

I have lived in the same community, and intimately known its people, 50 years, and this has been universal rule: Those behaving reasonably well have been a little better off every year; those misbehaving have been a little worse off, and finally reached a terrible climax. Forty years ago one man was as promising as any citizen of the town, but was developing bad habits. Now he is a bum everyone is ashamed of; the other day there were proceedings in court to declare him insane. But the man was smart enough, as he has been 40 years. So he will continue a disgrace to his wife, children, friends, his country and opportunity. Who can doubt that he might have easier been well to do, respected and useful? I do not grumble at the man or at anyone; I ask the question in pity.

This poor fellow is hopeless; he might have retreated, but cannot now. I wonder others do not better appreciate the terrible sermon he preaches.—Ed Howe's monthly.

GERMANY COMING BACK INTO ITS OWN

MAY GET BACK COLONIES TAKEN DURING WORLD WAR

Is Opinion Expressed At the Geneva Conference, Seat On Commission Is Assured To Teutons, More Tangible Cut In Arms Is Necessary, Before Great Britain Will Put Its O. K. On the Proposal To Give Financial Aid To Nation Victim of Aggression.

The Council of the League of Nations at Geneva, Switzerland, decided Thursday to increase the membership of the League's mandate commission, supervising Germany's former colonies, from nine to ten, and assured Germany a seat on the commission.

This is interpreted as meaning the eventual restoration to Germany of one or more of the colonies she lost in the World War.

World disarmament unexpectedly caused a discussion in the council Thursday afternoon.

Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, commenting upon a plan for organized financial assistance for a nation, victim of aggression, declared the project possessed great value and would deter aggression, but that Great Britain would demand a more tangible reduction of armaments before supporting the scheme.

Sir Austen declared it would be impossible to consider the project apart from disarmament; and that British parliamentary acceptance also undoubtedly would be contingent upon acceptance by all nations.

The project, which was drawn up by the league's financial committee, and now goes before the assembly, provides that a nation attacked could contract loans on the general security of its revenues, but with the assistance of an international guarantee to be contained in a convention which would be open to all nations. No states would benefit from this arrangement unless they signed the convention.

Norway and Lithuania joined Sweden in demanding that the league council adopt a less passive attitude in international political problems. If the applause and later comments of the mixed public galleries are to be taken as a criterion, the general reaction to this is that the criticism heard in the last few days will serve a useful purpose in preventing the league becoming lethargic and will put increased vim into its activities, particularly disarmament activities.

Because of the opposition of the foreign ministers of certain big powers, Poland reluctantly trimmed its original elaborate nonaggression pact until it became a mere skeleton of two articles.

One of these forbids all war as a means to solve international disputes. The other stipulates that all international quarries must be settled by pacific means.

The new text declared in the preamble that the assembly recognizes the solidarity binding the international community and is animated by the firm will to assure maintenance of general peace.

The preamble continues by emphasizing that war never should be resorted to for settling disputes between nations, that an aggressive war is an international crime, and that the solemn denunciation of all wars of aggression will cause an atmosphere of general confidence favorable to disarmament.

Then comes the body of the resolution, which declares first that "every war of aggression is and will be forbidden," and, second, "the assembly declares that the members of the League of Nations are under obligation to obey this principle and requests them to negotiate pacts of non-aggression inspired with the idea that pacific means should be employed for the settlement of differences whatever might be their nature."

MAYOR FOUND NOT GUILTY AT HEARING

Case Against G. M. Fitzpatrick Dismissed—Evidence Was Not Sufficient.

The hearing of Mayor George M. Fitzpatrick before justice of the peace, E. C. Frieze Thursday afternoon, resulted in a verdict of not guilty. Mr. Fitzpatrick was charged with assaulting George Greer in the city jail, following a hearing before the mayor on the charge of receiving stolen property.

The prosecuting witness, Mr. Greer subpoenaed six witnesses, three of whom gave their testimony. The mayor was represented by Meeker Terwilliger and M. C. Seyfert Jr., and after all evidence was in, made a motion to dismiss the case on the ground of insufficient evidence. The motion was upheld and the mayor was discharged.

METHODISTS TO SUPPORT THE MARSHALL LAW

Conference Resolution Calls on Churches to Give Moral and Financial Aid.

Ohio's militant Methodists at Delaware, cheered their "amens" Thursday to a pledge of further "moral and financial" support of the Anti-Saloon League and to call to battle for the Marshall bill.

With fervor born in speeches by Rev. E. J. Moore, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, Senator L. T. Marshall, author of the bill, and former Senator J. S. Edwards, Ohio's Methodist preachers stood and cheered their battle cry "against the forces of vice and lawlessness that are trying to bring vote they passed a resolution, drawn about another wet regime in Ohio."

With an immediate and unanimous by Rev. Moore, that called on Ohio's M. E. churches to give moral and financial support to the league.

"We call on all good men and women to be as active in combatting the wet interests now as they were in the battle leading up to prohibition," the resolution said.

"We ask of the Methodist churches that same loyalty to and support of the Anti-Saloon League that these churches have given in the past. The church cannot leave the field as long as it is confronted by an organized enemy."

The Marshall bill, which will be attacked by referendum following activities by Senator George H. Bender, came in for praise as "preserving the inferior courts which are as old as the state and necessary to welfare of country districts."

CONFERENCES OF DEMOCRATS DURING WEEK

Ohio Delegates to be For Donahey For President and Davey For Governor.

Columbus, September (Special)—

Democratic state leaders have held a number of conferences during the past week. The result has been to clear up the situation in Ohio so far as their party is concerned.

One paramount feature has marked all the conferences and is to be constantly pushed to the fore. The party must enter the campaign of next year solidly united and without international dissension. To this is attributed the election of Governor Donahey three times.

The program which has been decided upon is to nominate Congressman Martin L. Davey of Kent, representing the 14th Ohio district, for governor. This will be done, as nearly without opposition as possible. He is regarded as the strongest man the party can present as a vote getter.

A delegation will be sent to the next Democratic National convention from Ohio, instructed for Governor Donahey for president. This has been decided upon. While it is not considered as at all certain he will be nominated, it fits into the plan of party solidarity.

In case the nomination goes to another the governor will then declare himself as a candidate for the United States senatorship to oppose Senator Simeon D. Fess. This is the position to which he really aspires and it is believed he will be the strongest man the party can present. The fact that he will have the support of his own state in the national convention will give him added strength in the senatorial race. The leaders feel he will secure the nomination without another man in the field.

This is the program the leaders have decided upon and it will be carried out.—George U. Marvin.

Reveals Recipe for Famed Singing Hinnie

Dublin, Ireland.—Everybody in Ireland knows what a singing hinnie is. Consequently there was much surprise when country families read in London dispatches that Mrs. L. S. Amery, wife of the secretary for the dominions, and other well-known British women had learned for the first time at a London cooking demonstration just how to make this popular Irish country dish. The recipe known to every Irish housewife is:

One pound of flour, one tea-cupful of currants, three-fourths pound of butter, lard or margarine, one teaspoonful of baking powder and sufficient sweet milk to mix to the consistency of pancake dough.

The hinnies are cooked on a hot griddle and are called singing because of the noise made by the sizzling grease.

and one of the most difficult of all The famous Matterhorn, at the head of the Zermatt valley in Switzerland mountains to the climber, has on its left flank a ridge that has never yet been conquered and which, according to experienced guides, never will be. This ridge rises steeply from the snow fields to about 13,000 feet and is surmounted by a cliff which rises from there nearly to the real summit, 14,830 feet high.

ESCAPE PLAN

IS THWARTED

Convicts Had Cut a Large Hole in Prison Wall—Five are in Solitary.

Wholesale escape of Ohio Penitentiary prisoners was thwarted Wednesday when guards discovered a large hole in an outside wall of a dormitory accommodating 600 men.

Five men, believed to be the ringleaders, were placed in solitary confinement. Others are implicated, it is believed, and will be placed in solitary confinement. The men are:

Sam West, serving two to 20 years from Erie county, for automobile stealing.

Jack Hart, five to 30 years from Summit county for burglary.

Andrew Anderson, two to three years from Hamilton county for carrying concealed weapons.

William J. Dooley, five to 15 years from Cleveland for defrauding an innkeeper.

Charles Shoelkey, serving one to five years from Lucas county, for pocket-picking.

The hole, five by three feet, had been dug in the wall of an air chamber and storage room which opens off the dormitory. It was under a window near the roof. The wall at that point is about three feet thick. All but the outside shell of stones had been removed and piled in the left of the air chamber. Mortar around the outside stones had been loosened and the stones could have been pushed out easily.

Guards discovered that the convicts had made a duplicate key to the air chamber. Several chisels, a hammer manufactured out of lead and crow bar were found.

Two of the five men placed in solitary confinement confessed to the warden of their part in the plot. They worked, they said, during the day when they were employed in the dormitory as "range" men or orderlies. At that time there is but one guard in the dormitory.

Much of the work was done on Labor Day, they said. The prison band playing for festivities put on for the men deadened the sound. They had been working about two weeks, they said.

The men could have reached the ground by dropping about 15 feet. The dormitory wall faced W. Spring street and guards on the walls could not see the spot where the hole was being made.

Men in the dormitory on which the air chamber opens are not confined in cells but have access to any part of the dormitory. This condition prevails because of the crowded condition at the penitentiary.

National Farm Leaders and Business Men Unite

Chicago.—The Agricultural Club of America, a super-organization of farmers and of business leaders dealing with agriculture, which will be "the largest and most democratic club in existence," and will have its own home in a $35,000,000 "Agricultural Capitol building" to be owned by its members, reached the stage of formal organization here recently.

Led by Coburn Whitmore, Dean Charles F. Curtis of the Iowa State college at Ames and other national farm leaders, the organization expects to attain a membership of 510,500 farmers and business men who deal chiefly with agriculture. Its five fundamental purposes were stated, at a meeting of the board of governors, as follows:

"To centralize, and make possible a closer co-operation between all existing farm organizations on matters of national or group interest.

"To aid them by providing them a permanent central home.

"To enable such business men as implement makers, bankers and others dealing with farmers to understand the farm situation better from direct contact with actual farmers.

"To create a fund of millions of dollars with which farmers may finance great projects that will help them meet their needs.

"Finally, to make Chicago, as its location and shipping facilities entitle it to be, the agricultural capital of America."

Headquarters of the club are to be in a new building, plans for which have been drawn by William H. Prayn, Jr., architect, and approved by the board of governors. Its total cost is to be $35,000,000, and plans for financing it are under way.

standing and it was at this home, son as host, welcomed the descendants of Lewis and William Igo on Monday. It was told by some of Williams descendants that he left Twin wheat here and he got tired of eating corn bread. The ground was so rich

AUBURNStraight Eights Proven In
42,000 Miles Test
to be the—*Fastest*American Stock Cars*Impossible—Auburn could not originate new improved designs and build cars better than they had ever been built before, and sell them for less money, said competitors.Yet Auburn did it. The public recognized the advancement and bought.
Auburn sales doubled in one year.
The car itself caused it. Even today competitors are just starting to copy Auburn's original low design of three years ago.Its Luck—It Can't Last—they then said. Yet this year Auburn sales will again double. Auburn's growth and success is most extraordinary. The reasons for it are all built into the car itself, and the wonderful satisfaction of Auburn owners.
Auburn's percent of increase is a sensation in the industry, greatly gaining where others lost, and greatly passing many of the so called "big" companies.The Public WinsHow can buyers strip cars of their outer tinsel, of their fancy model names and exaggerated advertisingclaims and get down to the real bone and flesh values?Auburn makes its car do its own selling. Its asks no favors, depends upon no high-pressure selling nor artifices. It BUILDS better and newer cars and makes the cars themselves PROVE it. Therefore Auburn's value is irrefutable.Read These RecordsTo prove that Auburn cars are faster, more efficient, more durable, better engineered and built, we determined to break all official A. A. A. records for fully equipped stock cars from 5 to 5,000 miles—and DID it on the Atlantic City Speedway. Then we doubled that distance establishing new records to 10,000 miles, then on top of that we tripled it, making new records to 15,000 miles, all in one continuous test. Three times the proof of superior value ever offered buyers by any manufacturer!Words vs DeedsWords can not offset Auburn's deeds.
Claims can not substitute for performance proofs. Auburn introduces a new kind of automobile, and shows the new kind of value you are entitled to.AUBURN AUTOMOBILE COMPANY, AUBURN, INDIANA6-66 Roadster $1095; 6-66 Sport Sedan $1195; 6-66 Cabriolet $1295; 6-66 Sedan $1295;

To keep plants moist for a day or so, sink a tin with a hole punched in it beside the plant, with the hole toward the root. Fill the can with water and cover. The water will drip for a day or so.

Distance Lure
I have heard it said of a great painting, "Don't go too close to it." In order to get the best out of a picture view it in the proper light and from a distance. If you get too close to look you will realize the rough way in which it is made. . . . "I prefer (now) to also view women from a distance; never closer than four or five feet.—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

HUDNELL'S

AMUSEMENTS

In point of acting, direction and story, "The Fire Brigade" qualifies as one of the really great pictures it has been the good fortune of this reviewer to witness. This picture, produced by Hunt Stromberg with the cooperation of the International Order of Fire Engineers, opened a three days' engagement last night at the Metropolitan theater. It is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture.

"The Fire Brigade" brings back to the screen the Charles Ray everyone loves in a role that lifts him to new heights. It is indeed a stroke of good fortune that Ray played the part, for not only did Ray need such a part to establish him again in his rightful place, but the part needed Ray for its interpretation. The actor and the role seemed to be created for each other.

Ray plays the part of Terry O'Neill, a young fireman who finds himself tangled in a net of politics, duty and love, and the denouement come in one of the most thrilling climaxes ever screened.

May McAvoy is seen in the leading feminine role opposite Ray, and plays the part of Helen Corwin with a sincerity that adds immeasurably to her interpretation. This actress is growing in dramatic stature with each succeeding picture into a brilliant artist.

A excellent performance is given by Holmes Herbert, as James Corwin, and Tom O'Brien, remembered for his work in "The Big Parade," has another interesting character part. Eugenie Besserer as the mother of Ray contributes an excellent bit of emotional acting.

"The Fire Brigade" is the first Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture directed by William Nigh, who exhibits a marked ability for this type of production. He has handled his big scenes to the best possible advantage deriving the last ounce of effect from each bit of action.

HARM OF THE HEAVY TRUCK

Nobody who travels American highways to any considerable extent has failed to see improved roads seriously damaged by the heavy trucks now in use. In most states, weight limit regulations are supposed to be in existence, but there are few if any states in which such regulations have been generally and successfully enforced. Ordinarily, people think only of the injury done to the road, but in cities the harm does not confine itself to the streets. A prominent Washington city architect, George O. Totten, has recently written a letter to the commissioners of the District of Columbia, complaining that serious injury is being done to buildings for a considerable distance back of the street line.

"May I call your attention to the fact" says Mr. Totten, "that the heavy trucks now permitted to traverse our streets are doing great damage to buildings of all classes? These trucks, with their 14 tons, lumbering along on hard rubber tires, many of which have scarcely any rubber at all, at 15 miles or more an hour, cause violent tremors, veritable earthquakes for a distance of 50 or 100 feet back of the pavement. They have caused serious damage to two buildings which I own, where I have had to replace fallen ceilings."

There can be no doubt of the general utility of the motor truck, but the weight of loads permitted to be drawn over the streets and highways by these swift-moving vehicles will have to be determined in the end, not by the truck manufacturers or owners, but in accordance with the best interests of the people as a whole. The quick ruin of expensively-built roads, to say nothing of injury to buildings on adjoining property, cannot be permitted to go on indefinitely, merely because a very big truck, heavily loaded, is more economical than two smaller ones, from the truckman's point of view.—Columbus Dispatch.

Still Find War Victims

That an average of 30 bodies a week are found in France and Belgium is the report of an official of the imperial war grave commission. The number is decreasing, as many as 100 being recovered in a week last year.

The finds are made by farmers redeeming land, by builders restoring devastated areas and by others searching for old metal in battlefields. A reward of 10 francs is offered by the British, the French and the Belgian governments, and paid according to the nationality of the body found.

Enjoy Your Home

--- All of It ---

This winter many families will LIVE ALL OVER THEIR HOMES--using all the rooms, enjoying the comforts of ALL of their furniture, for they will use the modern Cabinet Heaters.

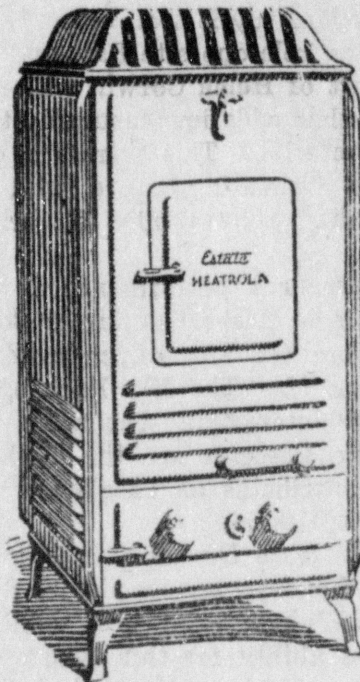

Others will live in one or two rooms, close up the balance of the house for the winter, all on account of the inefficiency of the old type of heating stove. They will hover around the old stove in an effort to keep warm, while the other folks will be enjoying themselves all over their homes, for the reason that they are using one of our circulating Heaters.

There is no "guess-work" any more about these new heaters doing the work for which they are intended. We have sold them for the past five years AND THEY DO WORK. Ask any of our users--we'll be glad to tell you who they are and where they live.

Kiddies' Fashions
Adult Miniatures

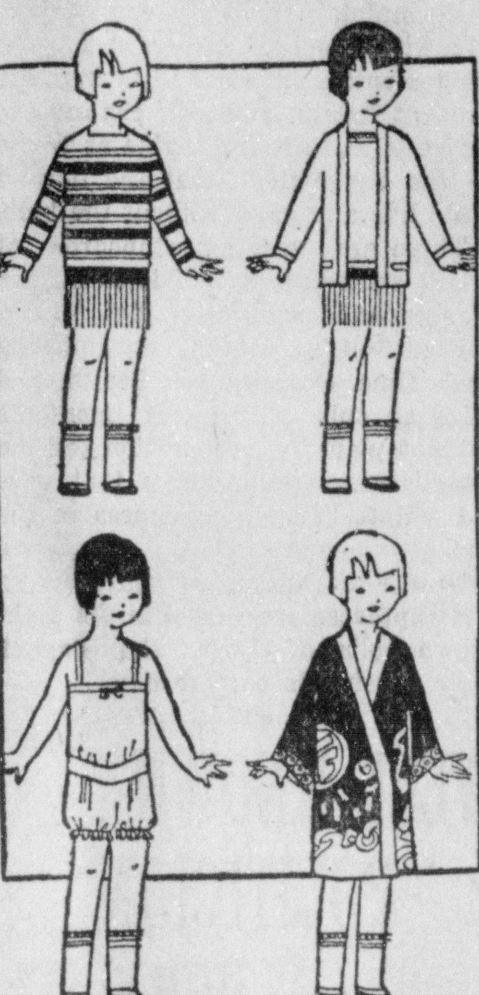

Styles for Youngsters Now Like Mothers and Sisters Are Wearing.

Clothes for little girls, in particular, are perfect miniatures of their mother's and older sister's.
This striking similarity, however, does not mean that modern children are becoming super-sophisticated or that their adults are striving for exaggerated youthfulness. It illustrates the simplicity of the established fashions which makes them appropriate for women and children.
The "baby" sister, for example, (from four to fourteen years) may wear for school or play a sweater costume which is an exact duplicate of the one which her mother or sister wears to the links for her game of golf. The horizontal stripes, graduated in size, usually take on more vivid colors for the younger generation and may be matched by striped socks worn on little brown legs, but otherwise the sweater and skirt costume is only a big one reduced.
The cardigan, too, as well as the slipover, has shrunk to the proportions of a six-year-old who wears it traveling with no small amount of child-smartness. It is of light-weight wool crepe just like the grown-up sizes and is worn with either a little silk blouse or another sweater.
And silk underwear is by no means the exclusive right of the debutante or 'teen-age daughter. Tiny glove-silk vests and bloomers in dainty pink and peach shades are found in the lingerie drawer of the family along with the everyday white muslin combinations.
The grown-ups have no monopoly even upon coolie coats—for they too have been minimized into small-size wrappers or lounging coats, with the same exotic colors and designs that appear on the large ones.
The scaling-down of the fashions does not stop with the larger articles of apparel but continues to the details.
Small felt hats, too (with medium brims), look almost exactly like the tailored ones which belong to older members of the family and are often almost the same in head size (when the grown-ups have a close shingle-bob).

Choose Stocking Heel That Will Fit Shoe
When you purchase stockings, does it ever occur to you to see that the heel of the stocking is becoming to the type of shoe it is to be worn with, or do you buy the particular type of heel you have seen advertised as being the "smart thing" and then wear it with any and all styles of shoes?
A low-heeled shoe, or any sports shoe, demands a square-heeled stocking. The pointed heel is worn with the opera pump or the severely plain one-strap slipper. The intricately strapped or cutout dress shoe takes the square heel, as the pointed heel worn with this type of shoe would make just one more irregular outline!

Hats, Handbags Match; Shown in Many Colors
Hats and handbags to match are being produced in many colors in Paris. Usually felt is chosen for the accessory ensemble, but one also sees crepe de chine and taffeta. The ensemble match the dress in color.
Felt hats and handbags, kasha or silk sport dresses, and colored kid shoes make bright costumes when such colors as green, blue or pink are chosen.

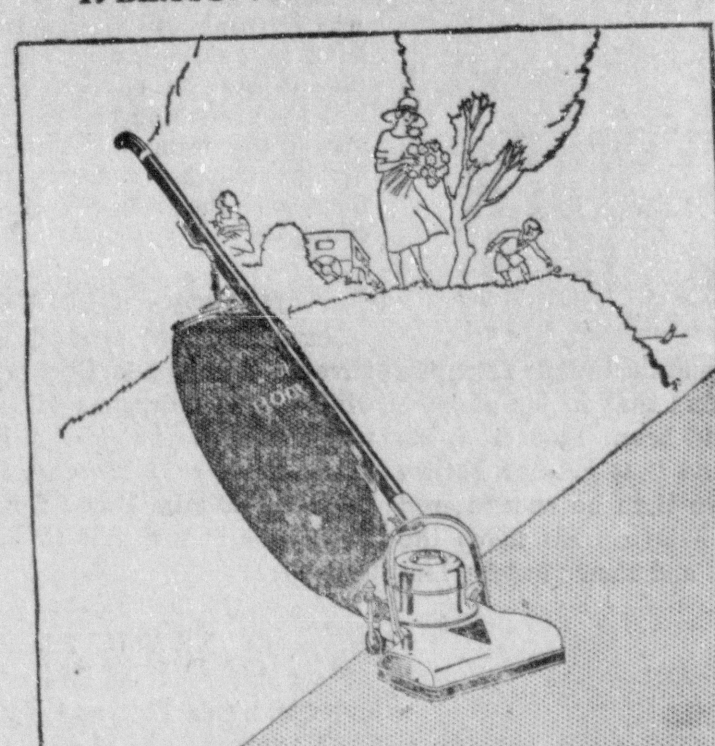

Brushed Angora Strands Are Used as Embroidery
Weaving an interesting yarn—the embroidery of many of the smartest new frocks of lightweight woolen is worked in brushed angora strands. Often a deep yoke and upper portion of the sleeves are worked in dull-white yarn in a design perfectly simulating lace.

Sweater Costume, Cardigan Jacket, Glove Silk Undie, Coolie Coat.

White Man's Burden

That is the title of a famous poem written by Rudyard Kipling and first published in 1899. Each stanza of the poem begins with the line: "Take up the white man's burden." The phrase now refers to the supposed responsibility of the white race for the moral and physical welfare of all the dark races of the world.—The Pathfinder.

THRIFT TALK GOOD HABITS RIGHT LIVING

Facts About Future Should be Faced by All in Very Sensible Manner.

"It doesn't pay to worry about the future. The things we dread seldom happen. It's better to take life as it comes and not burden ourselves with thoughts about the years ahead."

There are many whose creed of life is something like this and it leads them along a very treacherous and dangerous pathway. It doesn't pay to worry, perhaps, from the standpoint of conjuring up imaginary woes or misfortunes. But there is a great difference between worrying about the future and facing life's possibilities in a sensible manner.

The Japanese have a proverb which says: "Success and happiness are the beautiful flowers that spring from the plain brown bulbs of thrift and savings." The point of this talk on thrift is to point out the difference between planting the honest bulbs of thrift and neglecting entirely to make provision for the future.

Too many of us are apt to think of thrift only in terms of plain brown unattractive bulbs, without thought of the beautiful flowers that come from them. And the sequence of thrift and personal advancement is just as true as the sequence of bulb and lily.

To maintain that one can go thru life with absolute disregard for the fundamentals of rightful living and prudent habits, and still continue to thrive is as false a doctrine, as would be the suggestion that the flowers could live and grow without the bulb.

There are varying standards of thrift, according to individual circumstances and conditions. But living beyond one's means, squandering one's time, energies and health, and thinking only of present moments without plan or preparation for the later years, are practices that cannot fail to bring unhappiness in the end.

Unless the flowers of your success and happiness are rooted in the plain brown bulbs of thrift, the day of their passing is sure to come.

WELL KNOWN POLITICIAN IS VERY ILL

S. H. Hollenbeck, Once Power
in State and Nation, Unable to Leave Home.

Illness has forced the seclusion of S. H. Hollenbeck, confidential friend and adviser of the late Senator Mark A. Hanna, according to advices received by friends in Cleveland.

Hollenbeck, in his prime, was one of the best known political figures in Ohio and was instrumental in the campaign which made William McKinley president in 1896 and 1900.

Altho never elected to any high office, either state or national, Hollenbeck was relied upon by Hanna and other politicians of the time as a man to conjure with in time of political crisis.

He served as state fire marshal when McKinley was governor of Ohio, and when McKinley began his spirited campaign for president in 1896, Hollenbeck traveled from coast to coast lining up support to elect McKinley. His success was reflected later in tributes from Hanna, and McKinley.

Hollenbeck is now past seventy and is unable to leave his home. He has been ill for the past three months.

BAD HABITS.

I have lived in the same community, and intimately known its people, 50 years, and this has been universal rule: Those behaving reasonably well have been a little better off every year; those misbehaving have been a little worse off, and finally reached a terrible climax. Forty years ago one man was as promising as any citizen of the town, but was developing bad habits. Now he is a bum everyone is ashamed of; the other day there were proceedings in court to declare him insane. But the man was smart enough, as he has been 40 years. So he will continue a disgrace to his wife, children, friends, his country and opportunity. Who can doubt that he might have easier been well to do, respected and useful? I do not grumble at the man or at anyone; I ask the question in pity.

This poor fellow is hopeless; he might have retreated, but cannot now. I wonder others do not better appreciate the terrible sermon he preaches.—Ed Howe's monthly.
